2.3.1 Student centric methods, such as experiential learning, participative learning and problem-solving methodologies are used for enhancing learning experiences

Students are the pillars of the nation and hence much importance must be given to the student centric learning, which is fruitful for their well being as well as to the nation. Student centric method of teaching is the most approved pedagogy followed by all the faculties of the institution. The institution tries its level best for the students' academic development and promote their various skills. Lecture method is mostly adopted by the college. But now days modern technology in teaching has touched every aspect of teaching –learning. Now a days there is an immense change in technology like ICT in teaching – learning. Therefore the field of education is no exception. The students are motivated to make effective use of You-tube, WhatsApp, Face book, Google classroom to enhance their current knowledge through the internet facility provided by the institution. In the same way software like SOUL, N-List are made available for the utility of the students and staff as well.

participative learning methods are mostly followed in teaching. Modern techniques adopted in teaching helps to make learning more effective for the better understanding of the students and give them better learning experiences. The learning process helps the students to develop their communicative aspects and involvement in various academic activities, co-curricular activities, extracurricular activities, sports & cultural activities and so on. Students are encouraged to participate in seminars, group discussions, debate, poster presentation, workshops etc. To promote sportive skills among the students, the department of physical education encourages students to participate in inter college competitions such as Kabaddi, Kho-Kho, volleyball, basketball, cricket etc. N.S.S. department of our college carry out various programmes for the overall development of students and programmes useful for the entire society, through which an ideal student is created.

Various Literary Associations and departmental activities are organized to enrich educational skills among the students which improve communication skills as well.
